THE REAL STORY FOR CABIN CREW

ISSUE 5

17th January 2013

Thursday's highlights

Now, GalleyFM knows that you lot are already the world's best selling cabin crew, but who knew that those oh-so-sleek and professional exteriors hid so many levels of tantalising and titillating talent as exposed (in some cases, quite literally!) at ISPY's Got Talent, kindly sponsored by Britvic.

We've never been so entertained or delighted as we were on Wednesday night. Congratulations to all who bravely stepped up to the mark and especially to the winners, Loonies and Toonies, Air Canada, for their magnificent masterpiece!

As we go to press, a day of speedy laps at the supplier showcase is beginning to wind down...which means that... although everyone has had a brain workout, filled to the brim with the all important features and benefits of sponsors' products, it's time to up the energy levels again. In fact, some crew have even been spotted limbering up and lunging down in preparation for tonight's bowling fest, sponsored by DFASS and Diageo. Go Team ISPY2013!

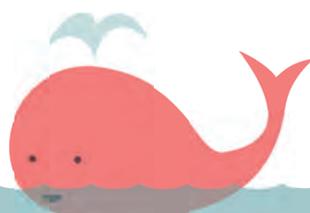

Bucket List

Today we spotlight Frankie and her explorer tendencies..

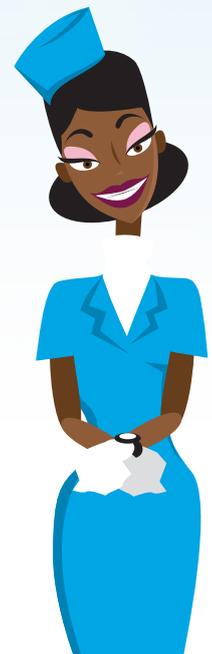

1. Take my 1978 VW Campervan to see the beauty of Ireland. This is fitting as her name is Shamrock!!
2. Hot air ballooning in Cappadocia, Turkey. Drifting over a unique landscape of fairy chimneys, rippled ravines and extraordinary rock formations. Why? Nearest I'll ever get to being a bird!
3. Explore the Whitsunday Islands at the heart of the Great Barrier reef. Amazing and spectacular tropical beauty to take your breath away.
4. Stay on Nantucket Island near Cape Cod Massachusetts, and go whale watching. A childhood favourite book 'Nightbirds on Nantucket' by Joan Aiken has always inspired me to stand on the windswept sandunes and look out for the pink whale...
5. Go on a Grand Canyon hiking trip. See, touch and wonder at one of the 7 natural wonders of the world. I wanted to be a geologist, a dream come true!

Friday programme overview

At GalleyFM today we're feeling both happy and sad because we are all coming to the close of an incredible week. But don't worry, there's more fun and frolics ahead of you, with ISPY's climax evening, the Gala Awards Dinner sponsored by Coty, Mars and Portfolio Partners. There's also the perfect opening to your evening - a champagne reception courtesy of ISPY sponsors, Diageo. Don't forget to capture your evening in a unique way by visiting our M&M friends at the Mars photobooth - always a favourite!

Friday is one busy day. We've heard that the ISPY Crew Enlightenment sessions are extremely lively so hold onto your hats! There's a rumour circulating that one session may get a little messy but we don't want to spoil the surprise. Just have a great time and don't forget the afternoon crew rehearsal!

GalleyFM e-newsletter Souvenir Edition

The crew at GalleyFM HQ is going to compile a unique and special souvenir issue for you that will be available for you to download from Wednesday 23rd January. All you need to do is go to www.galleyfm.com to download your very own copy and we hope you will enjoy our insiders round up of the Awards evening.

Baby Comp Winners

It's Myriam Lemaire, BSL-easyJet, who wins a pair of Breffo Spiderpodiums for correctly guessing our very own beautiful babies. Well done Myriam, not easy (let's face it, some of them have changed a bit!)

The moment you have all been waiting for... the answers!

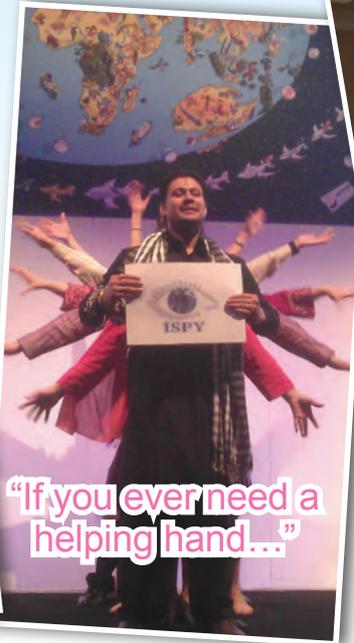

Pic of The Day Competition

We have had a chuckle viewing all of the great pictures you have sent in throughout the week. It's a shame we couldn't fit them all into the newsletter, but fear not as you can access all of the entries to Pic of the Day at www.galleyfm.com

"Auditions for Supermarket Sweep went... not so well"

"Fingers crossed they don't notice my hat."

"If you ever need a helping hand..."

"The odd couple are spotted in the lobby"

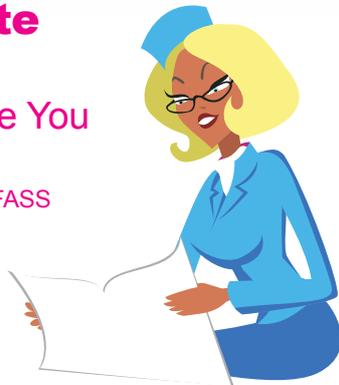

Sponsor's Quote of the day:

Bloom Where You Are Planted"

Carolyn Mariani, DFASS

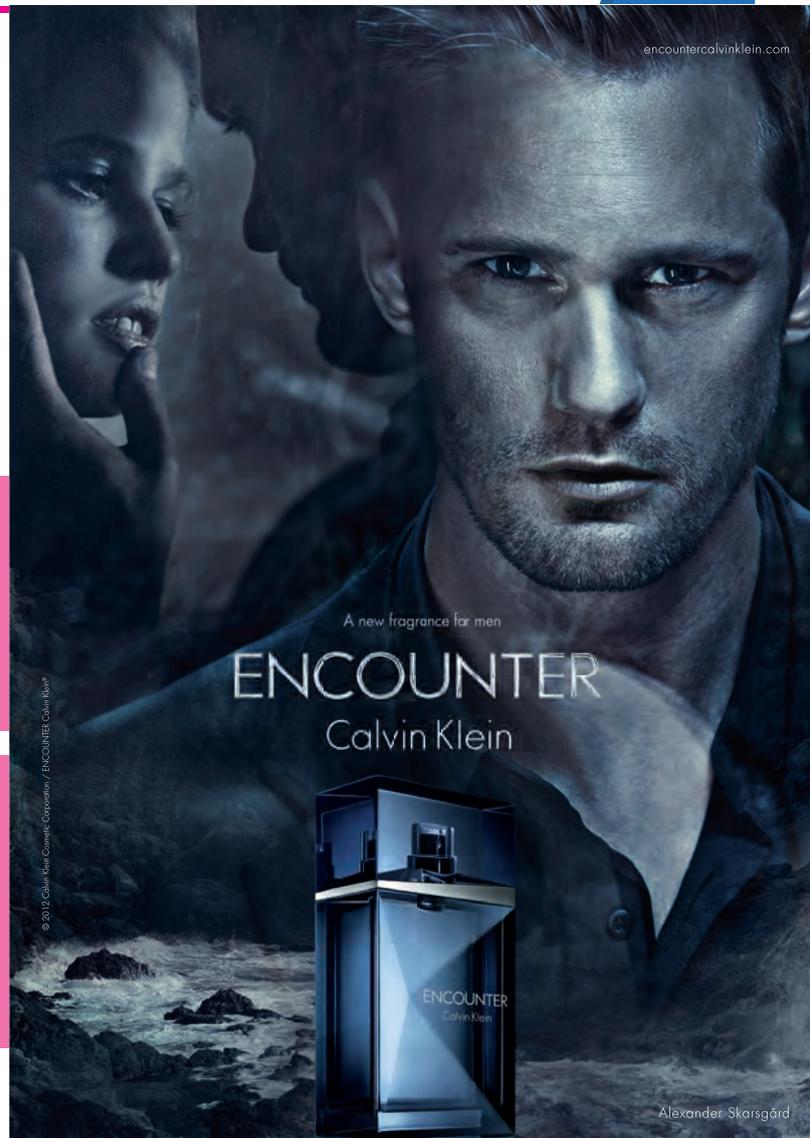

Reminders

Don't forget to put your vote forward for the Ray Martin Act of Kindness Award and also Personality of The Year Award. Every vote counts!

Please ensure you have booked your place on the bus for the return to Heathrow.

Photobooth

Those cuddly M&M's will be let loose tomorrow evening in the Regency room from 6.30 pm. You can collect your photo on the night or download it later from GalleyFM.
